Conversion of New Land Management Software Update

Martin County is excited to announce that the conversion to our new Land Management system will begin at close of business, Thursday, February 8, 2018. Because of this, permit processing on Friday, February 9th will be unavailable for the following departments: Building, Growth Management, Engineering, Fire Rescue and Utilities.

The County anticipates that the new Land Management system will be available on Monday, February 12th. The new system will provide access to the Accela Citizen Access system which will be available for online submittals for all Building and Fire permits. Online credit card payments for Building and Fire permits will now be available with this new system. Also available online will be search capabilities for property information, all permits and license contractors, and for scheduling inspection on open permits.

The home page for the online system is displayed below. The instructions to obtain a login and password will be available soon. There is no need to obtain a login and password for searching the system for land information, open permits or contractor licenses.
